Mob Nearly Swamps Aviators—
Lieutenant Smith Greets Wife of MacLaren, British Round-World Pilot

(By the Associated Press)

London, July 16. — Six bronzed American aviators, 24 flying hours out of Seattle and with two-thirds of their fuel tanks empty, landed at them, glided into the Croydon air-drome just outside of London this afternoon ready for their first real rest on the round-the-globe flight and for a week of preparations for the final dash across the Atlantic via Iceland and Greenland.

They left Le Bourget airdrome outside of Paris at 11:05 o'clock this morning hungry, headachy, all the side of Paris at 11:05 o'clock this morning, fought headwinds all the way across the English channel, but jumped from the continent in otherwise perfect flying conditions, and landed at the British airdrome just three hours and four minutes later, to be greeted by a crowd of enthusiasts who nearly mobbed them as they climbed stiffly from their cockpits.

Tomorrow, the planes, which have for months undergone the severest possible strain without as yet showing any signs of serious wear and tear, will go to Brough for the installation of new engines and for a general tightening up process before they hop off sometime next week for Kirkwall in the Orkneys, the last European stop.

The aviators' arrival was most casual, their only escort being a British passenger plane and several French military planes, the latter of which circled thrice around the field in a farewell maneuver and headed back toward Paris without landing. The flight instructor of the American camp, however, was not at all casual and the hobbles had a hard time projecting the planes and flyers. Battalion souvenir, and autograph hunters among the wild-eyed well wishers showered the six Americans with congratulations.

As the planes approached, Mrs. A. Stuart McLaren, wife of the British ground-the-world flyer, excited as a school girl, watched the planes anxiously and whispered to a companion, "I wish I could go with them. I wish it were my husband's turn home."

She was one of the first to congratulate Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, the American commander, who leaped out of the fuselage of his plane and gave her word of good cheer about her husband.

Flagship Chicago, carrying Lieutenant Smith and Lieutenant Leslie F. Arnold, his mechanic, was the first to taxi to the field. Immediately following it was the New Orleans, carrying Lieutenant Erick Nelson and Lieutenant John Harding, Jr., and Boston, carrying Lieutenant Leigh

Wade and Sergeant A. M. Ogden, Experience Valuable.

As the planes swept up the field the crowd, numbering several hundred, burst into loud applause and rushed toward them. Lieutenant Smith assured everyone, that his men were all feeling well and then said to Mrs. McLaren about her husband: "I am sorry I cannot help him, but an airplane is the only way to save him."

The aviators, tanned by the sun, looked to be the better off for their 18,000 mile flight.

"It's an experience I would not take a million for, and I wouldn't start it over again for a million."

With difficulty, the flyers got away for a bite of fuel and then hastened

Tonight they were the guests of honor at an informal dinner at the Royal Air Force club and Friday they will be entertained at a banquet at the Royal Aero club.

Chicago, July 16.—Six suits, each asking $10,000 damages from Rosetta Duncan, musical comedy star, and her brother, Harold, were filed to night by Edward J. Carmody, town attorney for Cicero, a suburb, in behalf of Chief of Police Theodore Spucheda and Policemen Benjamin Delaney, Charles Steinke, and Charles Smith, all of Cicero.

The action is an outgrowth of the altercation between the Duncans and the Chicago police July 4, in which Harold Duncan was arrested on a charge of violating a traffic rule and his sister alleged to have beaten a policeman.

PUBLISHER ARRESTED.
New York, July 16. — Cortland E. Young, publisher of Youngs magazine and other periodicals, was arrested in his wife's apartment today, charged with the murder of William McKinley.

three-year-old daughter, Rosabelle. According to Mrs. Young, the publisher broke into the apartment, snatched the child from her bed, and when the mother resisted, seized her by the throat. They were struggling when a policeman appeared.

CLEVELAND BEATS YANKEES

Holt Knocked Out of Box for Second Time in Two Days—Champs' Lead Cut to Half-Game.

New York July 16.—The Cleveland Americans won the first contest of the series from New York today, by a score of 9 to 3. The defeat reduced New York's lead in the American league to half a game.

Holt, who was knocked out of yesterday's game, started again today and was knocked out in the sixth, when Cleveland won the game by bouncing five hits for three runs. Shaute, Cleveland's left hander, was effective in the pitcher. He walked Ruth three times, twice with men on third, and retired Menzel each time. Shawkey got out of a bad hole in the eighth inning, when with the bases full and none out, he struck out Fowler and Lange and retired Shaute on an outfield fly.

Chicago Double Victims of Markheim—Winners Overcome Five-Run Lead in Second Game.

Philadelphia, July 16.—The Philadelphia Athletics took the Chicago White Sox into camp today for a double victory, winning the first game 5 to 0 and the second 6 to 3. Sam Gray's elusive pitching proved too much for the White Sox in the opening half of the day's engagements, the youthful Texan holding them to four scattered safeties.

Chicago piled up a final five-run lead in the second inning of the closing contest on Heimach but were helpless against the relief hurling of Big Bob Hasty. Going into the ninth a run behind the Athletics, walloped out three successive safeties that scored two runs and brought them the victory.

In the seventh inning of the second game, when Detroit made eight runs, being helped by a safety and tripled off Workman. COLORED STARS DEFEATED

THOMAS THREE SHOW COMPLETE REVERSAL OF FORM IN GAME.

Davis Twice Effectively Against Hard Hitting Aggregation and Is Given Superb Support—Locals Hit Cleanly and Timely—Battle Royal This Afternoon at Neahwa Park Forecast.

The Stamford aggregation of ball players turned the tables on Chappie Johnson's Colored Stars yesterday at the mountain resort and played at ball from opening to close, not a battery or fielding error being charged against them and with the single exception of perhaps a misjudged high fly not a semblance of a misplay being observed. The slugger of Johnson's tribe was held well in check by Davis who was aided materially by air tight fielding, all excellent, but Faye at short being the chief contributor with seven points and five assists. Davis kept the hits well scattered throughout the nine rounds, offering a varied assortment of twisters, floaters and slow ones with only an occasionally speedy one, which latter are pie for the Johnson aggregation.

The wise ones who asserted that the Stars had sold the game or were playing for bets on the game here today have not explained why the Stamford bunch were allowed to pile up seven runs in the first and four more in the second if the game were to be thrown. However, the wanderings of the mind of the average baseball fan are varied and mysterious and past finding out. Certain it is that before the second inning ended, he had yanked Smith and substituted Pierce and that after the second inning he himself gave way to Ewing, his stellar backstop, who but for one obvious reason would ere this be playing professional ball and well toward the top round. He had used his two best twirlers the previous days and withal it was apparent that Stamford had taken a firm grip and were crashing along through all defensive effort in much the same fashion as had their opponents on the two previous days. With Davis coming strong and brilliant fielding behind him and the Thomas bunch hitting cleanly, pushing out singles safely out of reach of fielders and no effort to kill the ball, they were irresistible. Smith, who started in the box for Chappie had little but speed, but plenty of that and he lasted only one inning and part of another. Pierce, who followed him had both speed and curves and the two runs which

A Fish Story

By Peg Murray

Gene Tunney, the "Devil Dog," and Gene Carpentier, the "Aviator of France," are the public's "suckers" if Carpentier really meets Tunney. It will be more than a battle between the French and American light heavyweight champions. It will be, in a way, a military clash between two soldiers who served as allies in the World war. It will be a battle of the elements—Carpentier, the French aviator, a hero of the air forces, and Gene Tunney of the U. S. Marines, a hero of land and sea.

Tunney, the only one of the A. E. F. champs to make good, beat Battling Levinsky in twelve rounds in 1922, while L. Beau Georges knocked the non-Battling Levinsky out in four rounds in 1920, which may or may not have any bearing on the present fracas. Gene is about the cleverest light heavyweight since Bob Fitzsimmons originated the title—he is intelligent and determined, and his French opponent, who certainly has seen his best days, will find him a tough nut to crack.

Piscatorially speaking, Jimmy Johnston, the fisher-promoter, landed these two beauties with a wad of dough for bait. "I'll hook that Carp in the gills," says Tunney. "So poor feech," replies Georges. "Get will be just one more case of canned tuna."

DIAMOND CHIPS

Yesterday morning, according to many of the fans, the Oneonta ball team was about in the class of the "Gooding Girls." This morning, according to the same fans, it stands next to the best in the world. And it's the same team too.

What's the answer? You do it. The mind of the baseball fan is beyond our comprehension.

It was to be expected that the team would come through. It's too good an outfit to stay in a slump long. D. D. Brown took a nine inning examination on whether the base runners were safe or out. He got some of the answers right.

Ewing swung a wicked whiff. If that had been white smoke from 15 big league clubs would be after him.

We're wrong. He would have been in the majors long ago. The colored Babe Ruth has hit three over the Neahwa park fence. Flood of Scranton hit one over. That's all there is; there isn't any more.

The same teams meet at Neahwa park at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Let's go down and see which one can outbit the other.

The Philadelphia Athletics play here July 25. If asked whether or not you are going to the game, your answer should be: "Do ducks swim?"

The Giants have played six games to date with the Colored Stars, winning two and losing four.

WILLIAM EMMET ROOT

Sketch of Respected Otsego Resident whose Death was Briefly Mentioned Yesterday—Many Recent Misfortunes to Family.

Udell, July 16.—William Emmet Root, whose death was briefly noted in these columns Wednesday morning, was the youngest son of Lafayette and Harriet N. Root and was born in Laurens May 2, 1865. He was one of four sons, who lived to manhood. The others were Melville, Adelbert and Clinton. When he was a small child the family moved to a farm in the town of Wells, between that place and Wells Bridge, where he lived until 1886, when he was married to Miss Ida Dibble, who survives him.

Mr. Root's occupation was that of farming until 1913 or 15 years ago, when he began working in a creamery and the past seven years has been employed by the Nestle's and Dairyman's league here until about a year ago, when his failing health compelled his retirement from active life.

Mr. Root's entire life, or since when he was a very small child, has been spent in the towns of Otsego and Unadilla. He will be remembered because of his sunny happy disposition and unfailing good nature. No intimacies of disease prevented a smiling greeting to family and friends. He was very fond of his home and family, and delighted in making them happy.

Although afflicted with heart trouble he was able to be out to more and post office until Sunday, and was dressed and about the house Tuesday morning and expired immediately.

Rev. W. E. Elwood will officiate at the funeral, which will be Friday at 1 o'clock at the house, with burial in Otsego.

Besides the wife, Mr. Root is survived by one son, Ray Root, of Binghamton, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Sutton of Norwich, and Mrs. Dallas Marcellus of Unadilla, also five grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Many misfortunes have come to the family in the past few months, beginning with the death of Mrs. Clinton Root in March, 1923, the fatal accident to Floyd Root in November, last, the burning of the home of Mr.

Then I read your advertisement in the newspapers and thought I would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a good trial, for if it had helped others, why not me? I have taken 36 bottles of the medicine and am never without it in the house. My baby boy is three years old now and I am sure happy since I got relief from my troubles. When any one has troubles like mine, or any ways like mine, I am always glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound so that they will get the right kind of medicine." —Mrs. JOE MCKAY, Box 662, Louisville, Neb.

Yeast-fermentation!—

Everywhere today that's the cry of successful breeders who know it is the greatest advance in poultry husbandry in twenty years

FERMENTATION of poultry feeds with Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast makes even the best ration better. By making the feed more palatable and easier to digest, it makes proper feeding possible. And proper feeding is the solution of most poultry problems.

When Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast, dissolved in water or milk, is added to your poultry feed, it starts at once to ferment. After the mixture has stood from 12 to 24 hours, the whole character of the feed is changed. The fermentation breaks down the hard, tight-packed granules of the feed (which must be broken down before they can be digested) and acts upon them in a way similar to digestion itself.

The fowl's system can then complete the process quickly and easily. The body turns food into flesh and energy at astounding speed! Young birds grow quickly into pullets. Laying stock do not lose their vitality during the fall and winter laying season. Hens weather the molting period quickly and easily. Yeast-fed birds lay eggs with high percentage of fertility.

You can get Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast right here in town. Come in today, ask for a free booklet, and take a package home. You'll soon be surprised by the general improvement among your birds!

For POULTRY, SWINE, CATTLE, HORSES, PIGS, CATS, RABBITS, CANS, PIGEONS, FOXES— Careful feeding experiments on practically every type of bird and animal have definitely proved the value of Fleischmann's Pure Dry Yeast to Cutting docks below the crown. Keeps the pecky young ones down.

Don't forget that the houses feel the heat, too, even if they can't remark about it.

Uncle Ab says, a squaky windmill never cured insomnia or gained any popularity with the neighbors.

More attention to shrubbery. Flowers and lawns will make many a farm home more home-like and less homely.

Right after the hay has been drawn is a good time to pick up those stones that bothered the mower in cutting it.

Bulletin E 54 of the state college of agriculture at Ithaca tells how to grow more hay that will save feed bills, and a postcard brings it. Alfalfa turns the trick.

Better cows, together with liberal feeding and good care, make the dairy profitable; every dairyman should be his own efficiency expert, watching all the details of his business.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY WOULD ASSIST OWN FAIR

Rochester, July 15. — A proposal that members of the New York Horticultural society withdraw their support from the State fair at Syracuse was made last night by Charles S. Wilson, president of the society and former state commissioner of agriculture.

Mr. Wilson declared that Syracuse fair was neither sufficiently representative nor a credit to the richness of the agriculture of the state. He said he would propose to the members of the society, in a letter now in preparation, that the society's efforts and support be transferred to their own annual fair held here. He said he would suggest that steps be taken to develop the horticultural aspect of this fair and to make it thoroughly representative of the agriculture of the state.

LEADERSHIP

Firestone Leads on Speedway with Five Record Breakers

When the race driver selects his tires he does so realizing that his life and chances for success depend upon them. It is significant that all of the ten money winners in the Indianapolis race were Firestone shod. Firestone, using gum-dipping and other special processes, has developed tires to such a high degree of efficiency that at Indianapolis, May 30th, the following drivers broke the world's record for 500 miles over the brick track, making money rounds at over 100 miles per hour.

Never before were tires put to such grueling service, where it was necessary for every ounce of rubber and every fiber of fabric to work in perfect union with every other part.

Driver	Time	Miles per hour
Joe Boyer—L. L. Corum	5:05:22.51	98.84
Earl Cooper	5:06:42.18	97.99
Jimmy Murphy	5:08:25.39	97.57
Harry Hartz	5:10:44.29	96.55
Bennett Hill	5:11:37.00	96.46

Leadership in Everyday Service

Millions of motorists are profiting by the long-lived service of Firestone tires. Scores of unsolicited testimonials emphasize the long mileage Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords deliver—which builds leadership in service, safety and economy.

Leadership on Cabs, Buses and Trucks

The largest trucking companies in the five largest cities in the United States use Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords exclusively. One fleet alone, the Yellow Cab Co. of Chicago, uses over one-half million tires miles per day.
